

YEN wants to pay for a capacity building workshop of your organisation!

Context: In 2021, YEN focusses on re-writing the stories of national minorities and creating new narratives. In order to do so, we want to offer our Member Organisations the opportunity to implement an individual capacity building training, which brings them concrete tools in the fields of visibility, creating a brand, public speaking, social media, campaigns, storytelling etc.

And now are looking for Member Organisations, who want to organise such trainings. They should be short: 2-3 days and gather ca. 5-15 participants. They should take place from now on until end of September 2021.

We will pay all costs, you can decide on the subject that is the most relevant for you and you can organise the training in your minority or country language! For the training you can also invite youth from other minority groups in your region/country.

Bonus: we are also planning to create a small fund, so we can support small initiatives, if you decide to use the competencies gained during the training and implement a small project afterwards!

ADVANTAGES FOR YOU:

- You don't have to pay for anything!
- You can hold a capacity building workshop for your members!
- You can organise it in your own language (it doesn't have to be English!)
- You get the opportunity to get in touch with other minority groups within your country!
- It is a short and compact event! Not many preparations needed!
- We help you out with the parts you need help with!

TASKS:

- Decide on the subject.
- Find the trainer (in cooperation with YEN).
- Find the venue and accommodation for the participants.
- Take care of the boarding/catering during the event.
- Take care of the moderation materials & other things requested by the trainers.
- Outreach and communication with participants.
- Support of participants in reimbursing the travel costs.

REQUIREMENTS:

- You are willing to stay in contact with the YEN Office to coordinate.
- You are willing to invite other young people from other minorities in your region or country (if possible).

If you are interested, please send an email to office@yeni.org until the 16th June 2021.

Best wishes on behalf of the YEN Office & Board
