About the Seminar

This Autumn Seminar, the participants will meet in Hermannstadt /Sibiu, Romania. Through the workshop we want to support the participants in developing or (re-)building their minority youth organisations. The other activities in 2022 focus on empowering individuals who are the backbone of strong and active youth organisations. Throughout 2022 we aim to encourage reflections on their identity, human rights, and the value of diversity and solidarity. We also aim to create motivation for activism and youth participation by sharing experiences, skills, and knowledge within the YEN network.

The Autumn Seminar is the last step of a path that aims at transforming the motivation, inspiration, newly learned skills, and knowledge that participants previously gained into taking ownership and becoming active in minority youth organisations.

The Orga-Team is made up members of the youth organisation of the German minority Romania “Arbeitsgemeinschaft Deutscher Jugendgemeinschaften in Rumänien” (ADJ).

Accommodation will be provided for all participants in 4-bed rooms during the Seminar.

As the pandemic is still ongoing, we ask all our participants to be vaccinated or recovered AND tested (you can find more information below).

Workshop

The seminar will build on the outcomes and concepts learnt in the previous activities, moving from a level of self-aware individuals with strong identities to the level of strong and active organisations that these individuals are forming.

A relevant part of this seminar will focus on gaining concrete skills and reflecting on how to attract new members and ensure an active and sustainable membership in an inclusive environment. The participants will also be encouraged to start a process of re-defining the aims of their own organisation as part of strategy development. Throughout the event, there will be opportunities to share experiences and best practices from their own organisations and learn from each other.

The main aim of the activity is to empower young people from national minorities to (re-)build and/or further develop their own minority youth organisations. Thereby, ensuring that these organisations become and stay strong, active and sustainable democratic spaces for participation and inclusion.

During the first half of the Seminar, the participants from different organisations and backgrounds will start reflecting on the needs and rights of minority youth. They will be encouraged to reflect on “Why we need minority youth organisations?” (in comparison to minority organisations). Participants will be encouraged to think about youth organisations as opportunities for democratic civic spaces, tools of self-representation and participation, enabling access to social rights and inclusion.

The seminar is supported by the Council of Europe

The workshop will also address some basic principles or strategies that make youth organisations successful and sustainable. A specific focus will be put on how to attract new members and the value of cooperation and networks by exploring the opportunities of engagement on an international level.

Building on the outcome of this reflection, the participants will start a process of learning about and using newly learned skills and knowledge about strategy development while re-defining the aims of their own organisations. Participants will also have several opportunities to share the experiences they made as members of youth organisations. In the last part of the Seminar, we want to provide participants with some concrete tools for organisational development. That is why the last day will focus on capacity building and will be of a more practical character such as funding/ application writing and advocacy.

- The workshops are based on non-formal education methods and you will spend most of the week in your workshops. Of course, there will also be leisure activities, an excursion day and the Exchange Market. You will get more information after the registration deadline.

About YEN

As YEN we believe in human rights and fundamental freedoms for all humans. We cooperate with and support institutions that share those values. Our work is built on the ideas of respect, openness and tolerance for all minorities. We openly position ourselves against racism, sexism, homophobia, transphobia, antigypsyism, antisemitism and discrimination or forced assimilation of any kind of minority and, as a matter of principle, are against violence in whatsoever form. When we choose facilitators and topics for workshops we do so with those values in mind.

We are happy that at YEN events our participants and team have various opinions and views on the topics we address. We value discussions and open exchange of ideas. Therefore, we expect that participants and team-members show respect to everyone and do not spread hate. Furthermore, we expect all attendees to acknowledge that every human being is equally valuable, and that each individual's freedom ends where another individual's freedom begins.

What is ADJ?

Arbeitsgemeinschaft Deutscher Jugendverbände was founded in 1996. They are an umbrella organisation for 5 regional and 58 local youth organisations. Their focus is on preserving the German culture and language of minority youth in Romania. They offer support and educational opportunities for active young minority members and help strengthen voluntary actions.

ADJ is involved in a lot projects, that focus on tradition, culture, history and language. Furthermore, they create spaces for minority youth by establishing youth forums and support youth centres. One of their biggest events is their language camp for children, where they get german classes but also start their motivation for minority activism at a young age. Furthermore, ADJ is also organising meetings for local traditional dance groups and educates youth to become facilitators themselves.

An important part of their work is enabling minority members to stay in their organisations for a long time. They start by organising projects already for children and offering different activities for all age groups from small children to young adults. This allows them to keep and transfer their know-how and continuously succeed in their projects. Find more information on www.adj.ro
